DR. BROWN'S SERMON

Closing His Engagement at the First Presbyterian Church.

POSTMASTER FIELD TALKS ON LOVE

Services in Memory of Rev. J. H. Castle at the First Baptist Church. Aiding a Church Fund—Other Religious News.

Rev. Francis Brown, Ph. D., D. D., of Union Theological Seminary, New York, closed his engagement yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church. In the morning he preached from II St. Peter: 10, 11, on making one's calling and election sure. The sermon was one of exceptional interest, and all through it were scattered sentences and expressions which the mind singled out and dwelt upon as particularly direct, concise and comprehensive.

"There is," said the speaker, "a Divine indiscriminateness about the offer of salvation. The Bible is many sided, and comes into contact with its readers in many different places; one man being reached by something in Genesis, another by a passage in Revelations. One, its truth touches at the point where sin makes his heart false, another at the point where aspiration reaches upward. There is a wonderful versatility in the Divine appeals and adaptability to details in the Divine commands. No man's feet are bidden to follow exactly in the footprints of another. Each has allotted to him some special service. The book addresses itself equally to the genius and to the dullard and to all, it shows that their share in Christ's kingdom depends upon character. The Divine control gains entrance for us into the eternal kingdom, not regardless of character, but directly and primarily through character. Given the heavenly character and heaven follows as a thing of course. We have no share in the kingdom from mere kindness of its Lord. Jesus did not die to throw open the gates of paradise to a desecrating rabble.

THE BIBLE IS A JUDGE.

"God's aim is to make us righteous. It would not be enough if God were merely wise or merely affectionate, if there were not a strong, pure, holy character as our standard. There is a depth of meaning in the phrase, 'to be fit for Heaven.' The apostolic mind was clear enough on the things demanded of the believer. 'If ye do these things ye shall never stumble.' The text is the climax of an argument; it is the last joint fitted to the lever's end, giving it sweep enough to lift the wheel to the highest level.

"Mediocrity in character is not contemplated by the Scriptures. No other book so sharply judges man, no other book expects so much of him; it is a judge condemning, and yet a preceptor enjoining the highest virtue. It is not 'Do as well as you can,' but 'Be perfect.' There is no entrance save the one; there is no dickering. The best life is the only life to be named. Men (and women especially) are prone to accept substitutes—to make things do, but in the court of Scripture nothing will 'do' but righteousness."

Dr. Brown pointed out that cherishing this high aim ensured safety; arguing on the inconsistency of exercising prudence in temporal things, and displaying indifference as to eternity; and that it insured living on a lofty plane, a rich personal experience; a life of usefulness here, and hereafter an "abundant entrance" into the Heavenly Kingdom.

IN MEMORY OF REV. DR. J. H. CASTLE.

Solemn Commemorative Services Held at the First Baptist Church.

Every seat in the First Baptist Church, of West Philadelphia, Thirty-sixth and Chestnut streets, was occupied last evening by the congregation that attended the union service in memory of Rev. John Harvard Castle, D. D., pastor of that church from March 1e, 1859, to January 31, 1873. The Fifth Baptist Church, where Dr. Castle when taken ill was supplying the pulpit for Rev. John Peddie, D. D., joined the First Church, of West Philadelphia, in the service, and William Castle, a brother of the deceased minister, was also present. A handsome crayon portrait of Dr. Castle, heavily draped with black, occupied a prominent place in the chancel where he had so often ministered.

Rev. Joseph K. Dixon, pastor of the church, conducted the opening services and made the introductory address, in which he remarked that his prevailing feeling at the moment was one of loneliness. Death had not been a stranger to that congregation in the past twelve months, so many of their members had been called away; and most keenly felt among those bereavements must be that in which the church was called upon to mourn for its former pastor. Colonel William H. Harrison, one of the deacons of the church, read a series of resolutions expressing high appreciation of the services and Christian character of Dr. Castle, and directing that the proceedings of that meeting be entered among the archives of the church, and a mural tablet to Dr. Castle be put up in the church.

Deacon Charles B. Keen was the first speaker. He referred to the long and close friendship with Dr. Castle, of whose character and labors he spoke in the highest terms. Under his ministrations, he said, the church increased from a membership of '71 to 388, the Sunday school from 312 to '12, and the contributions from $1,600 to $4,352 in one department, and in another from $2,517 to $6,911.

Rev. C. C. Bitting, D. D., alluded feelingly to his long association with Dr. Castle, whom he had known as a boy, with whom he had attended Sunday school, whose roommate he had been for a time while studying divinity, and with whom he had been thrown in the denominational work in which Dr. Castle had served the church so faithfully and efficiently. Rev. Dr. H. L. Wayland said that Dr. Castle was the first person he ever heard suggest the idea of praying for an editor. He spoke of the interest taken by the deceased in the religious and denominational press, of his breadth of views and sympathetic nature, of his services to the church, both in this country and in Canada, and of the surprise of Lord Houghton, on seeing the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, in Toronto, at the prosperity of those whom he called "these dissenters."

Rev. Dr. George Dana Boardman, of the First Church, made the closing address, at once scholarly and eloquent, and a noble tribute to the dead pastor, while breathing a spirit of fervent piety. Miss Ellen McC. Fielding sang "Asleep in Jesus," as a solo, and the choir rendered an anthem and other appropriate selections with fine effect.

POSTMASTER FIELD ON LOVE.

He Addresses the Scholars of Memorial Baptist Sunday School.

Yesterday was the closing day for the summer term of the Sunday school of Memorial Baptist Church, Broad and Master streets, and the rooms were crowded at the afternoon session by the scholars and visitors to witness the long programme of service that had been prepared. After the responsive reading by superintendent and school, the kindergarten and primary departments gave an interesting concert exercise, which was a feature of the service. There was also a concert exercise of the texts from memory by the intermediate department.

An address by Postmaster John Field virtually concluded the service. He took for his themes the value of love, viewing it in the light of the many results its free expression calls forth in human nature. To illustrate the topic he referred to the attributes of Daniel in this respect. "You separate to-day," he said, "and soon your numbers will be scattered along the seashore or through the country. You will find a thousand and one temptations bestrew your path wherever you go. Carry your principles with you. Remember always that an all-seeing eye is upon you, although away from your superintendent and teachers.

"A short while ago two young men, nicely dressed, courteous and bearing a supposed reliable card of introduction, asked permission to go through my place of business. I gladly complied. They forgot about the skylights in the fifth floor, and while they were going along on the floor below an employe looked down through this skylight upon the two young visitors. While so doing he saw them thrust several things into their pockets. It was the eye above that saw them; so it is with us, the eye of God sees our every action." Mr. Field concluded his address with a reference to the order of man that the world needs; honest, truthful, industrious and those that stand by right for the right.

The Sunday school has sixty teachers and an average attendance of 500 scholars. It will open again on September 1.

HONOR TO FRANCIS MAKEMIE.

The First Presbyterian Minister Who Set Foot in America.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—The Presbyterian Memorial Church, erected at Snow Hill, Md., in honor of Rev. Francis Makemie, the first Presbyterian preacher to come to America, was dedicated to-day. It stands upon the site of the first Presbyterian church in America, which was built by Rev. Mr. Makemie about 1684. A few miles south of Snow Hill at Rehoboth is another Presbyterian Church erected by Mr. Makemie about the same time, and the church at Princess Anne, also near Snow Hill, is almost equally as ancient. The church dedicated to-day is the third upon the original site. The cost of the building is about $20,000.

Among the contributors were Robert Garrett, ex-President of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company; Geo. W. Childs, Alex. McClure, Wm. M. Singerly, of Philadelphia; Chas. A. Dana, and Robert Bonner, of New York; the late Geo. S. Brown, of Baltimore; the late Edward S. Handy and State Senator George Handy Smith. The largest contributor, however, was Lady Kortright, of London, whose father, the late John Richardson, a wealthy Philadelphia banker, was born at Snow Hill. Rev. T. L. Vallandigham who preached the dedicatory sermon to-day, is a brother of Clement Vallandigham, the Ohio lawyer and politician, who became so conspicuous during the Civil War.

TALKING TO THE VETERANS.

Rev. Dr. Dager Preaches to E. D. Baker Post at Holy Trinity.

Over one hundred members of the E. D. Baker Post, No. 8, G. A. R., attended Holy Trinity Reformed Episcopal Church, Twelfth and Oxford streets, last night. Rev. Dr. F. E. Dager drew a lesson for the veterans from the II Chronicles, 20-26: "And on the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah.

From that assembling of the children of Israel to give praise to God for victory in battle, Dr. Dager drew a parallel of the American host assembled to give praise to God for the blessings of the free institutions of this country. The first point was that every blessing must be obtained through battle. The government of America was the result of the Revolutionary strife.

Every blessing must be retained through battle, was the second point, to illustrate which the late rebellion was instanced. The transition of these blessing to posterity was the third point. Under this head the occasion was embraced to say a word about the preparation of the Sabbath, and the use of the Bible in public schools. A scathing rebuke was administered to what was called an attempt to introduce un-American institutions. The rostrum was prettily decorated with palms and flowering plants.

AIDING A CHURCH FUND.

Special Services in the First African Presbyterian Church.

A special service was held in Magnolia Hall, Sixteenth and Lombard streets, yesterday morning, in behalf of the Church Fund of the First African Presbyterian Church. The pastor reported the work of raising the needed amount as going on encouragingly, with every prospect of being able to enter the new edifice during the coming winter.

Rev. M. W. Rice being unable to preach, as promised, the pastor, Rev. Thomas Amos, gave a helpful and encouraging discourse.

This church is one of the unfortunates that have remained with an unsupplied pulpit. During the lifetime of Elder Jacob C. White, a man of great piety and force of character, the congregation was held together. After his death, without a pastor and situated in an undesirable locality, the congregation has dwindled, but since the Rev. Thomas Amos has been in charge the work has prospered and the feeling among the people is that the church will once more take her place among the leading congregations of the city.

Mr. Amos is quite a young man, but a successful pastor and an earnest worker in all reforms.

Dr. Roberts on Census Taking.

Rev. William Dayton Roberts preached last evening at the Temple Presbyterian Church, Franklin and Thompson streets, on the subject "Taking the Census," selecting his text from Gen. 32, ch. 27: "And He said unto Him what is thy name?" After reviewing the historical development of the idea of census taking, Dr. Roberts evolved his idea that it was a reminder of God's last judgment. The questionings that would apply to the moral nature of man were happily developed in the sermon. He dwelt upon the importance of a name, as proven in the days when a name meant a great deal more than the common idea of a name signifies now.

SERMONS TO STUDENTS.

The commencement exercises at the University of Virginia began with a sermon by Dr. Moses D. Hoge, of Richmond, Va.

The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of Colby University was preached in the Baptist Church by President A. W. Small, Ph.D., from Matthew, vi: 33.

The baccalaureate sermon at Middlebury College was preached by President Ezra Brainerd, from Romans, viii: 19: "For the earnest expectation of the Creation waiteth for the revealing of the sons of God."

The baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of Williams College was preached in the Congregational Church by President Franklin Carter, from Hebrews, xi: 8: "And he went out not knowing whither he went."

Pigeon Flying Gossip.

The birds of the Hub Club, Boston, were liberated in their first journey for record of the season yesterday. The start was intended for Saturday, but the weather being unfavorable the birds were not let go. The entries were John Hicks, of Allston, 2; George Gould, of Newtonville, 7 (two of them of 1890 hatch); C. Kussmaul, of Forest Hills, 3; Henry Wagner, of Roslindale, 7. The start was at 8 o'clock from East Syracuse, N. Y. The best time to each loft so far reported was: Gould's 363 at 2.30 P. M.; distance, 251.3 miles; average speed, 1,005 yards per minute. Kussmaul's 105 at 3.25 P. M.; distance, about 252.5 miles; average speed, 998 yards per minute. The next journey will be next Saturday or Sunday from 350 miles.

The birds of Theodore P. Green, of Woodbury, N. J., that begin their journeys for record this week, ended training with a fly from Washington, D. C., last Saturday. The start was by Mr. T. B. Joslin at 7.40 A. M. The returns were all of the flight together at 10.50 A. M., the distance, 120 miles, having been covered in 3 hours and 10 minutes. The average speed was about 1,111 yards per minute. The birds will be countermarked and shipped to-day for their journey from 200 miles for the special prize.

Other birds to be shipped to-day are those of the Messrs. Twining and Cadwallader, of Yardley, Pa., to be flown for distance in the day from 450 miles.

The birds of the Messrs. Hunsberger and Denagre, of Chestnut Hill, Pa., were liberated yesterday morning at twenty minutes of 7 o'clock, in Danville, Va. No report was rendered at evening, but whether the fault of the telegraph office or because there were no returns remains to be found out.

A Dangerous Plaything.

John Chills, 12-years-old, of No. 4 Lincoln avenue, had both feet injured by the explosion of a cartridge with which he was playing at Fallon and Catharine streets. The lad was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital and subsequently sent home.

A Score Card for Amateurs.

THE INQUIRER has had printed a blank score card which is to be used by amateur and junior clubs. It is easily understood and can be filled in immediately after the game without much loss of time. THE INQUIRER will publish all scores made out on those cards, and all other news which may be of interest to amateurs. Clubs desiring a supply of the new cards should send in their addresses at once.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Brooklyn Was Unable to Hit Either of Louisville's Pitchers.

SPECIAL TO THE INQUIRER.

LOUISVILLE, June 29.—Louisville and Brooklyn played to-day in about the most oppressive weather ever known here for base ball. Brooklyn proved an easy victim. McCullough and Toy for Brooklyn and Meakin, Ehret and Weckbecker were the batteries. Ehret took Meakin's place at the end of the seventh. McCullough was hit freely, while the visitors were unable to hit either of Louisville's pitchers, making no hit off Ehret. Attendance, 3,483.

[illegible]

Rochester's Errors Were Costly.

SPECIAL TO THE INQUIRER.

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—Decidedly better fielding and more opportune hitting on the part of St. Louis won to-day's game from Rochester. The errors of the latter were costly, coming at times when St. Louis ran bases with boldness. A hot hit ball from Roseman's bat broke the third finger of Callihan's pitching hand in the fourth inning and Blauvelt took his place. The latter was hit very hard. Attendance, 3,300. Score:

The Athletics Favored by Rain.

TOLEDO, June 29.—The game between Toledo and the Athletics was stopped at the end of the fourth inning by rain, when the score stood 4 to 1 in favor of Toledo.

Columbus Had One Run.

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—The Columbus-Syracuse game was stopped by rain during the third inning. Columbus had one run, Syracuse nothing. It will be played off to-morrow.

ATLANTIC ASSOCIATION.

Baltimore Wins Through Hartford's Stupid Playing and Bad Fielding.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—Bad fielding and stupid playing lost Hartford the game to-day, while Baltimore nelded splendidly. In the seventh Moore hit the ball to deep centre field, which looked like a home run, but Long ran like a deer and caught the ball with one hand. At the end of the first inning Manager Barnie and Catcher Tate were arrested by the county authorities charged with "playing ball on Sunday." They were also arrested at the second inning. In both instances they were released on bail of $300 each to appear before the county authorities during the coming week. Attendance, 4,000. Score:

Baltimore	1	0	1	1	5	3	1	0	0	—12
Hartford	0	0	0	0	3	2	0	0	1	— 6

Batteries—M. O'Rourke and Tate; Staib and Hodgman. Two-base hits—Tate, Staib, Ennis, Hodgman, Walsh. Double plays—Forster, Moore and Theison, 3; O'Rourke and Mack. Struck out—By Staib, 2. First base on balls—Off O'Rourke, 2; off Staib, 4. Stolen bases—Forster, Henry, Mack, J. O'Rourke, Tate, Powers, Hodgman. Hit by pitched ball—Power, Ennis. Umpire—Townsend. Time—2.15.

Jersey City Shut Out.

NEWARK, N. J., June 29.—The Newarks won to-day's game from Jersey City by bunching their hits. The fielding of both teams was brilliant. Score:

Newark	0	0	0	1	0	1	2	0	x	—4
Jersey City	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Earned runs—Newark, 3. Two-base hits—Dooms, Mansell, Sullivan, Fitzgerald. Sacrifice hits—T. McDermott, Burdock, Dooley. Base on balls—Newark, 2; Jersey City, 4. Base on errors—Newark, 2; Jersey City, 1. Left on bases—Jersey City, 10; Newark, 8. Struck out—Newark, 3; Jersey City 3. Double plays—Smith, McDermott and Fields. Batteries—Sullivan and Childs; McDermott and Murphy. Time—1.25. Umpire—Corcoran. Attendance—2,500.

Washington, 9; Worcester, 7.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—At the close of the base ball game to-day at Alexandria Driving Park Burkett, the secretary of the Washington Club, was arrested and sentenced by a justice of the peace of Alexandria county to pay a fine of $2 and costs for each man taking part in the game. This will probably result in breaking up Sunday games in this vicinity.

The home club won the game in the fifth inning when they hit Stafford, the Worcester pitcher, for three singles, a double, three triples and a home run, scoring eight runs. Score:

Washington	0	0	0	0	8	1	0	0	0	—9
Worcester	0	0	2	1	1	1	1	1	0	—7

Base hits—Washington, 10; Worcester, 9. Errors—Washington, 3; Worcester, 3. Earned runs—Washington, 7; Worcester, 2. Two-base hits—Bader, Nicholas. Three-base hits—Bader, Bird, Wentz, Stafford, Kennedy. Home runs—Whistler, Stats.

GAMES OF THE AMATEURS.

Darby O'Brien's Costly Lark.

SPECIAL TO THE INQUIRER.

PEORIA, Ill., June 29.—Darby O'Brien, captain of the Brooklyn National League base ball nine, took a two days' lay off while his club was in Chicago to visit Peoria, his home, and last night "while out with the boys" put his fist through a showcase and cut his wrist, severing an artery and otherwise damaging the member. His physician announced that his base ball playing is at an end, for this season at least.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND FIELD.

Both Philadelphia Clubs open in Chicago to-day.

Jimmy Fogarty is home nursing his split hand.

Captain Comiskey was injured in Saturday's game.

Mike Tiernan has made six home runs this season.

Anderson is pitching a remarkable game for Wilmington.

Campau has been made captain of the St. Louis Browns.

Pitcher Gray has been released by the Pittsburg (N. L.) Club.

Catcher Shellhasse has been released by the Boston (N. L.) team.

Pitcher Foreman, of Cincinnati, mashed a finger in practice the other day.

The new members of the Phillies are doing all the batting on the Western trip.

Denny Fitzgerald, a first-class second-baseman, now in this city, has offers from a number of clubs.

The Boston and Buffalo Brotherhood Clubs will play at Boston on July 4 and 5, instead of at Buffalo as scheduled.

President Day and Buck Ewing had a conference in Cincinnati on Saturday. Both refused to divulge anything.

Hamilton leads the National League with forty stolen bases. Harry Stovey, of the Players' League, has forty-three.

Fielder Campau has been made captain of the St. Louis Browns. Bob Leadley will probably be appointed manager.

Catcher Andy Sommer has been released by the New York (N. L.) team, and he has signed with Evansville of the Indiana State League.

Catcher Andy Sommer has been released by the New York (N. L.) team, and he has signed with Evansville, of the Indiana State League.

The Columbus and St. Louis Clubs will yet be in the American Association pennant race. Both clubs have been materially strengthened.

Three of the four runs made by the Chicago National League team in Saturday's game with Brooklyn were home runs, Wilmot having two and Anson one.

There will be plenty of fun at the local League grounds on Tuesday, when the local scorers and Five A's cross bats. De Wolf Hopper is going to play first base and his infielders are all expected to carry the ball to him.

The average attendance of the first seventeen games in Cincinnati this year has been larger than it was in Washington, Indianapolis or Pittsburg last year and is ahead of all League cities this year save Philadelphia.

Captain Anson said: "Brooklyn is a very good team and has a few able players, but I don't think they can win the championship of the League. We can beat them and we will beat them. Why, they are not in it. Cincinnati is a better club than Brooklyn, and will stand higher than Brooklyn at the end of the season."

A prominent base ball enthusiast said yesterday that the Brotherhood were contemplating a good stroke of business in playing the games scheduled for the Fourth of July in the East instead of in the West. It is conceded that the Fourth is more generally celebrated in the East than in the West, and hence such a change would prove a great financial benefit to the Brotherhood.—Boston Herald.

Thomas Zacharias has resigned from the National League staff of umpires. Zacharias is an iron worker. He thought last winter that umpiring was preferable to working before a furnace in the summer. He doesn't think so now. He would rather roast before a furnace than be a target for players and spectators. He lays his failure to being too easy with the players.

The Pittsburg Chronicle says that Eddie Mayer, the Phillies' third baseman, is an expugilist. It says: "Mayer came here from a little town in New York and wanted McCaffrey to give him a few points. McCaffrey was out of the city, so an English expert living on Penn avenue took Mayer in charge. In a month he became an apt pupil. Mayer went to his New York home and won a fight. In the second, however, he was badly beaten and at once gave up pugilism."

The American Association has taken up the fight of the Rochester Club against the authorities of the town of Irondiquoit in the matter of playing Sunday games at Windsor Beach, for which offense the players of the Rochester and Athletic Clubs are under indictment and the Brooklyn players are under bonds. A meeting of the directors of the Association will be held at Louisville on July 8, and at that time steps will be taken to insure the playing of the entire Sunday schedule at Windsor Beach. The contest in the matter promises to be a bitter one.

The "Nonpareil" at Atlantic City.

TURF NOTES.

Castaway II as a weight carrier improves every race he runs in.

Hanover is at the Elizabeth track getting applications of fire irons and blisters.

William McFarland, of Bridgeton, has entered Belford E. in the Woodbury races.

Donovan, England's greatest race horse, has broken down in his preparation for Ascot.

W. W. Robbins, of Bridgeton, has entered his pacer, Roller, in the race at Vineland on July 4.

David Davis has purchased of William McFarland, at Bridgeton, the brown pacer Moonlight with a record of 2.42.

The Fourth of July Handicap, at Monmouth Park, has eighty-four subscribers, including some of the best handicap horses we have.

The Long Branch Handicap, run at Monmouth on Saturday, July 5, has sixty-one entries of horses well known for their abilities in such races.

It is not improbable that Kingston will meet Salvator and Tenny at Monmouth Park and the "rheumatic" horse will give the other two work to do to defeat him.

The Independence Stakes for 2-year-olds, run on the Fourth of July at Monmouth, may bring out the Abundance colt, Picknicker, Bolero, Luna, Early Blossom, Westchester, Strathmeath, Rometta, Potomac and other promising youngsters.

R. Liddle has sold, through Captain James M. Nelson, to Augustine T. Smythe, of Charleston, S. C., for saddle purposes, the dark chestnut gelding Clatter, foaled 1882, by Lisbon, dam Clarina, by Australia. When on the turf Clatter was exceedingly speedy.

Saturday of next week at Monmouth should see an interesting race for the Oaks Stakes, mile and a quarter. The 131 entries include Her Highness, Amazon, Gloaming, Golden Horn, Homeopathy, Livonia, Sinaloa and Helter Skelter. If these Western fillies were here it would greatly add to the interest felt in the race.

There was an exciting race at the Point Breeze track yesterday—exciting at the start. Daly's horse Jack defeated William H. Dutton's Harry for a purse of $250. The trial was a private one and Harry's time is unofficially given as 2.45. Dutton's horse came in several minutes later.

The Ocean Stakes at Monmouth, next Friday, should prove of even greater interest than the Suburban, if all the horses entered come to the post. Among the twenty-eight entries are Haceland, Prince Royal, Fides, Senorita, Kingston, Longstreet, Firenzi, Salvator, Tenny and the Favordale colt. At nine furlongs this should be a grand struggle.

Citizen Tom Ochiltree, who won a bet of a dinner from "Lem" Pomeroy on Salvator's Suburban victory over Tenny, declared emphatically that Salvator was a fifteen pound better horse than Tenny, and that only with a marked concession in weight, as in the Realization Stakes, could Tenny hope to turn the tables on his conqueror. Since the great race of Thursday, however, Thomas P. has not been quite so satisfied on this point.

One of nature's strange freaks may be seen at the farm of Jones Stanford, four miles north of Flora, Mo. It is a colt, not unlike other colts, except a mark in its face. Beginning on a line with the lower part of the nostrils, and extending to a point just below the eyes, is a perfect outline of a rattlesnake. Its mouth and eyes are perfectly formed. On its tail seven rattles and a button may be distinctly seen, and stranger still, the outline of the snake is raised, being about as large as a lead pencil, and not a hair on it.

Every year the time test as a factor in races is less and less to be depended on, judged by ever recurring instances of late. The Civil Service races at Morris Park were cases in point. Civil Service there ran six furlongs in 1.10¼, and yet when he met Tenny he was easily defeated in 1.12¼, and the track was about as fast one day as the other. On the first occasion Civil Service went at a rapid but steady pace throughout, with nothing at his head to fight him to a finish. When he was pitted against Tenny the object of his jockey and of that of Geraldine was to get so far in front of the dreaded "crack" at the start that he would not be able to utilize his great burst of speed until too late. Accordingly, the two went out helter-skelter and ran each other's heads off in the first five furlongs, leaving the redoubtable Tenny to catch them tired in the last furlong.

Salvator, as a yearling, cost Mr. J. B. Haggin $4,200, the purchase being made on account of the form shown in private by Baldwin's older brother to the colt named Prince Charlie. He only ran once at Nashville in '88 and died in California the following winter. Salina, the dam of Salvator, was one of the best race mares of her day; and his sire, Prince Charlie, although not a stayer, was unbeatable over the T. Y. C., on English courses with light weights. Salvator, as a 2-year-old, was started but six times and met with but two defeats, winning in turn the Maple, Tuckahoe Titan and Flatbush Stakes. As a 3-year-old Salvator ran eight races, and won all except one, winning such events as the Tidal, Realization, Lorillard and September stakes; also the Jersey Handicap, one sweepstakes and a purse race. His only defeat was in the Omnibus Stakes by Longstreet and Proctor Knott. This brings him up to this season, when he was started twice, winning the great Suburban, which justly gave him the title of "King of the Turf," and defeating Tenny in the match race on Wednesday.

Tenny, the "hollow-backed runt," as he is termed, cost only $210 as a yearling and was considered dear at that by Trainer Donovan. When Pulsifer sent the little sway-backed yearling to Donovan to train the latter asked him what he expected to do with a "jack rabbit" like that and he said he meant to race him. Donovan told him that he had better give him away, but that fall he said to Pulsifer that the "jack rabbit" showed a little speed. And the next spring he acknowledged that appearances were often deceptive. By Rayon D'Or out of Belle of Maywood, Tenny is as well bred as any horse in the world. As a 2-year-old Tenny started seventeen times, but only succeeded in securing two victories and these were small purse events at Latonia. As a 3-year-old Tenny was much more successful, for he ran in eighteen races and won ten of them, including the Fort Hamilton, Volunteer and Pelham Bay Handicap, also the Passaic, Eatontown, Choice, Van Nest and Electric Stakes. As a 4-year-old Tenny has developed most wonderfully, winning everything he was entered in until he met his Waterloo at Sheepshead Bay, in Salvator and Cassius, and his defeat for that race was followed by the great contest of Wednesday.
